

Students at CEU

CEU students are ready for the job market

CEU students come from diverse geographical, cultural, and educational backgrounds and by the time they graduate, they possess:

- A global perspective on the issues, problems, and challenges facing society today;
- An international network of colleagues;
- A critical approach to knowledge and information;
- An outlook grounded in open society values such as critical inquiry, respect for others, democracy, individual freedom, and justice.
